Invitation and fabulous BBQ decoration. I had so much fun creating these, and now that Cricut.com has created a project board for us to share and find items created by others I thought I would upload and see how this all works. Hope this project inspires you to either create a wonderful paper project or to create a fabulous Hamburger to fill your tummy :) Cricut Cartridges used were Block Party for every cut with exception to the flames. Notice the grass on the invitation. That was done by flipping the lettuce from the hamburger up side down. The flames were created using Indie Art.
