Design by: JillyBearDesigns (3 Projects)

About me: I am a teacher and mother of 3. I started out scrapbooking many years ago and recently switched over to greeting cards and party invitations and decor. I love my Cricut!

This fun circus lion is dressed up to celebrate a new baby girl. The designs came from the Create a Critter 2 sneak peek release images. I just love this fun animal. I chose the pink, orange, and brown color combination to keep it bright and fun. It can easily be altered to fit any birthday by changing the sentiment in the bottom circle or possibly cutting a number to place in the space.

OTHER MATERIALS NEEDED

card stock

button

Papertrey Ink sentiment stamp

adhesive tape

Stampin up Patterned paper

ribbon

foam adhesive squares

STEP 1

Cut pieces out of cardstock:

Card base is a weld of the lion shadow and drum shadow. The base measures 4.75 x 6.597. I cut the base card in two pieces because this is a 5 x 7" card. My 12" cutting mat wasn't large enough to cut it as a weld.
Light pink lion body/face was cut at H 4.5", Dark pink Mane was cut at W 4.25", Drum pieces were cut at W 3.542", 1" pink circle

STEP 2

Ink all edges. Before assembling I ran the lion's mane I used a sizzix embossing folder and ran it through my Epic 6. This gives the mane the embossed dots.
I assembled the lion first. I tucked some orange cardstock behind the ears to make them orange. I also use foam 3d adhesive to attach the mane/face section to the body of the lion. This raises it some.

STEP 3

To assemble the drum base I used stamped the chosen sentiment on a 1" circle diecut. I attached the hearts and circle using foam dots. Hand drawn stitches from the orange band on the drum base.

STEP 4

Attach the drum base to the base card first. Adhere the lion on top of that. I then used adhesive dots to attach the bow and little button to give the lion a girly look to fit with my baby theme.
