Valentines Day Card. This is one of my FIRST cards that I made with my New CRICUT EXPRESSION 2. I saw the cute phrase.. I LOVE WHOO YOU ARE! with the cute owl. So I decided to make my own. Since I have limited cartridges at the moment I had to create the OWL with simple shapes in the Craft Room.

CRICUT®: WHAT WAS USED

Cricut® Accent Essentials Cartridge

Cricut® Alphabet cartridge

Cricut Expression® 2

STEP 1

One basic CIRCLE (stretched) Two OVALS for the wings and two small HEARTS (upside down) for the ears. I was able to WELD them together. The main outline of the owl is FOAMY (khaki color). The rest is out of medium card stock paper. Four circles for the eyes. Which TWO are BLACK FOAMY. The only thing that I made by hand was the YELLOW BEAK. Since I was not able to find something similar with the cartridges I had. I also added the dots with Black and White paint. The inside of the card I cut out a red CLOUD. I welded the word WHOO inside. The rest of the phrase I used a Black SHARPIE. Before I glued the cloud I glued a piece of white paper under it so the letters would show WHITE. The two large red and pink squares I cut out I was able to make a border with markers of the same color. The Hearts on the FRONT, I made a border of basic hearts and welded them together. I used a smaller heart, which has a design with swirls and took out the swirls that went up with scissors. And last I created the small Yellow bow with a white hole punch for the center and two small heart punches for the sides. The back of the card has my stamp.. Created with Love... with my initials... KS. Had a BLAST making it. :)
