A valentine using Extreme Fonts, Indie Art, Elegant Edges, and Script Cuttle Bug folder. It is a 5 1/2 x 5 1/2 square card with lots of pop dotting. I used lots of black soot distress ink, lots of pretty papers from DCWV Black Currant stack and Core'dinations Pearls sparkly white cardstock for the card base and white lettering and the white of the wings.

PROJECT CUT FILES

STEP 1

Download the Cricut Craft Room file.

Select your papers place on the mat with the corresponding die cut elements.

STEP 2

Then distress ink all of your cuts.

Cut a 3 3/4 inch by 3 1/2 inch rectangle and emboss with the Script Cuttlebug folder and apply distress ink and then apply to rectangle to the black element with the heart border. Then pop dot the piece off the first mat layer.

STEP 3

I used a lot of pop dots on every layer. Some layers are pop dotted 3 dots high which is the heart. The pop dots I used are really thin they are maybe 1/16 inch high. I think 2 of them stacked equal a normal pop dot.

Position the wings where you want them and pop dot them. Then pop dot the heart on its shadow base. Then add assemble the "Love" layers and adhere them to the heart. Then pop dot your heart 3 pop dots high off the wings.

STEP 4

Then adhere the XOXO to the lower right corner on the first mat layer.

Then you can decorate the inside with some of your left over scraps.
