We had a hurricane shutter installed to protect the front door about 2 months ago. I very rarely use the front door as an exit or entrance. I was puzzled by why people were knocking on the front door instead of ringing the bell. it wasn't till my sis-in-law stopped by that i had that puzzle solved....you couldn't see the doorbell during daylight hours!!!! So I knew I needed some kind of signage, but didn't want anything blah or tacky...so this is what I came up with I think it's quite cute....
